

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF FINANCIAL EXECUTIVES INSTITUTE (IAFEI)

A worldwide professional association of national financial executives institutes established in 1969.

A private non-profit and non-political association organized under the Swiss Civil Code and legally and domiciled in Switzerland.

Its founding members include financial executives institutes of Argentina, Australia, Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Mexico, Peru, Philippines, Spain, United Kingdom of Great Britain and the combined Institutes of USA and Canada.

Collectively, the institutional members of IAFEI represent more than 20,000 finance executives thus making it the global premier society of finance executives.

IAFEI aims at providing more possibilities:

- * Developing a "global" thinking among the constituencies of member institutes;
- * Partnering/linking with reputable professional and global institutions like Standards & Poors, Accenture, the CFE Tax Advisers Europe, and the International Federation of Accountants
- * Providing a global networking platform for the members of the member institutes and its chosen partners/linkages
- * Interfacing with international institutions and organization

IAFEI MODEL CODE OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

An objective of the IAFEI is "to promote ethical consideration in the practice of financial management throughout the world." The model code provides principles which member institutes are encouraged to advocate in establishing or modifying their own educational materials. The codes' premise is to promote global harmony and well being through responsibility and Understanding. Achieving such harmony requires judgement about the proper balance between conflicting goals such as efficiency and social fairness.

WHO CAN JOIN IAFEI?

Members

A national institute largely composed of financial and control executives of leading business concerns that have common interests in financial management, financial reporting, governance, and observing best practices in sustaining business enterprises amidst the ever changing business landscape.

Membership in such national institutes should be open to executives performing the policy setting functions of a financial executive in a company of sufficient size.

In a country where there is no national institute, groups of financial and control executives as previously described may apply for membership with IAFEI thru the Area President.

If application is accepted, the members of the accepted member are entitled to participate in IAFEI's activities and may nominate its President who will be a member of the Board of Directors.

IAFEI ACTIVITIES
